ANNUAL REPORT

THE COMPTROLLER

OF THE

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,

FOR THE

Fiscal Year ended 30th September, 1859,

TO THE

GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF MARYLAND.

ANNAPOLIS:
BEALE H. RICHARDSON,
1860.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,

COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE,

December 27th, 1859.

To the General Assembly of Maryland:

The following Report is respectfully submitted in accordance with the requirements of the Constitution and Laws:

STATEMENT A, of the Appendix, shows the total receipts into the Treasury during the fiscal year which ended on the 30th of September, 1859, to have been $1,200,552.77, which added to the sum remaining in the Treasury on the 30th of September, 1858, makes the aggregate for the year, $1,642,-660.78. Of the receipts in the fiscal year, 1859, the sum of $991,869.66 was derived from revenue which accrued in that year, and $208,683.11 was received from revenue which accrued in former years.

A comparison of the receipts in 1859, with those of the preceding year, shows an increase over 1858, in the total receipts, to the amount of $181,323.82, and an increase, in favor of the same year of $145,838.27 on account of revenue accrued and received.

STATEMENT B exhibits the disbursements in the fiscal year, which amounted to $1,129,369.62, being less by the sum of $71,183.15 than the total receipts for the same time. This Statement will also show the balance in the Treasury on the 30th of September, 1859, from which it appears to have been $513,291.16; but it must be borne in mind that this balance was subject to certain charges, the greater part of which became due and were paid on the first day of the current fiscal year, amounting in the aggregate to $292,854.73 which being deducted leaves a nett remainder of $220,436.43, to be applied to the augmentation of the Sinking Fund, and other demands

Stat .

STATEMENT C is an estimate of the probable receipts into the Treasury during the current fiscal year (ending on the 30th of September, 1860,) which are therein estimated at the sum of $1,085,000. This estimate is of course based upon the existing revenue laws.

STATEMENT D contains an estimate of the probable demands upon the Treasury in the current fiscal year, which in the aggregate are set down at $974,694. This statement includes only the regular expenses of the State Government; no margin being allowed for extra or special appropriations.

DIRECT TAX.

Table No. 1, of the Appendix, will show upon examination that the receipts from the Direct Tax in the fiscal year were $247,863.17, being an increase of $2,647.18 as compared with the receipts from the same source in 1858. Of the receipts on this account for 1859, the sum of $99,269.37 was derived from the amount levied in that year, and $148,593.80 accrued in previous years. Of the amount received into the Treasury from Direct Tax during the year, Baltimore city paid $98,-386.03. The assessed value of the property of the city, as returned to the Comptroller's Office, under the Act of Assembly of 1858 amounts to $125,800,472, which is an increase of $30,244,889 compared with the assessment of 1852.

It was so late in the fiscal year before the assessment was completed that but few payments were made into the State Treasury in accordance with the new taxable basis afforded by it, consequently the returns from the city on this account appear very much the same as in the Comptroller's Report for 1858.

The attention of the Legislature is respectfully called to the propriety and justice of providing at its present session for a new assessment of property in the Counties. The increase shown by the late assessment of the City of Baltimore gives satisfactory assurance of the beneficial result of such a measure for the State at large.

Since the General Assessment of 1852 there have been extensive accumulations of personal property, much of which the tax laws have failed to reach; a large proportion of the same description has also, during that period, changed hands, has been stricken from the tax books, and from its nature, being difficult to trace, a considerable amount has never been reinstated; in this way escaping taxation altogether, to the manifest injustice of that class of property which is of a fixed and tangible character; and thus is contravened Article 13 of the Declaration of Rights that, paupers excepted, "every person in the State, or persons holding property therein, ought to contribute his portion of the public taxes for the support of Government according to his actual worth in real or personal property." Time serves only to increase and aggravate this grievance.

That the basis of taxation would be materially enlarged by a new assessment no more convincing argument, perhaps, could be used than that adduced by the simple presentation of a condensed statement of the valuation and assessment of property in the several Counties of the State and the City of Baltimore, made in obedience to chapter 337 of 1852:

Aggregate value of Real Estate, - -	$166,754,455
" " " Slaves, - - - -	14,243,597
" " " Stock in Trade, - -	12,413,016
" " " Public Securities, - -	5,795,576
" " " Bank and other Stocks,	19,089,794
" " " Private Securities, - -	20,602,980
" " " Live Stock, - -	8,367,766
" " " Household Furniture, -	7,143,025
" " " Plate, - - - -	265,117
" " " Gold and Silver Watches,	345,441
" " " Other Property. - -	6,222,863
	$261,243,660

The total aggregate exhibited an increase, when compared with the assessment of 1841, of $64,492,515. The amount subject to the State Levy, however, was reduced by errors and exemptions to $242,449,404; now, deducting this last sum rom the amount of the assessed value of property in the State for the year 1859, excluding the addition made by the late assessment in Baltimore city; the increase in the entire State in seven years, from every description of property, appears to have been only $11,514,445, whereas an assessment will, in all probability, show an actual increase during that period quite equal in the aggregate to that which was made in the ten years preceding.

Should these remarks be well grounded, your Honorable Body, upon making the requisite provision for a new assessment may reduce the direct tax to half a mill in the dollar, and yet the State will realize from this source of revenue $150,000 or enough to pay the interest on $2,500,000 of her debt. This, it is believed, is a safe calculation. It will be well, however, that this reduction should not take effect until after the assessment shall have been completed and the new basis established. Substituting, then, the probable receipts and demands in 1860 for those of 1861, and reducing the receipts by the sum of $80,000 there remains a surplus of $30,306 over the disbursements for the same time, and estimating the nett balance in the Treasury on the 1st of January, 1861, at $150,000 (which is $70,436.43 less than that reckoned for the 1st of January, 1860) there will appear a clear remainder of $180,306. In these estimates the item for expenses of the Legislature might have been excluded, which would have rendered the figures more favorable to the extent of $60,000 to $70,000.

In order to put the Legislature in full possession of all the important facts in connection with this subject, the receipts from the Direct Tax for each year from 1851 to 1859, both inclusive, are here given, viz:

1851, - - - - -	$399,576.64
1852, - - - - - -	472,135,65
1853, - - - - -	380,993.73
1854, - - - - - -	393,679.11
1855, - - - . -	365,837.88
1856, - - - - - -	330,594.42
1857, - - - - -	233,303.02
1858, - - - - - -	245,215.99
1859, - - - - -	247,863.17

In the year 1853 the Direct Tax was reduced from 25 cts. to 15 cts. on the $100, and in 1856 it was still further reduced 5 cts. on the $100.

"THE FUNDS."

A Report of the Free School Fund and the Sinking Fund will be seen by reference to STATEMENT E.

On the 30th of September, 1858, there remained in the Treasury to the credit of the Free School Fund the sum of $23,867.78, and there was received during the fiscal year for the use of the same from the 20 cts. Bank tax, $24,611.49; from dividends of Bank stock, standing to the credit of the Treasurer, $11,055.40; from State 6 per cent. Stock, $530.16; from surplus revenue, $34,069.36; from the investment for the use of Common Schools, made under the Act of 1858, chap. 295, $10,413.54, amounting to $80,679.95, and with the balance, making an aggregate of $104,547.73; and the disbursements for the same period were $80,119.86; leaving in the Treasury on the 30th of September last, to the credit of the Fund, the sum of $24,427.87.

It is much to be regretted that Maryland has no thorough satisfactory system of Common Schools. Eminent in many respects, her financial faith unquestioned, her credit established upon an impregnable basis, yet, in this regard, she is greatly excelled by many of her sister States. Surely it is not necessary at this day to discuss the invaluable blessing of a well regulated Primary School—he must have lived to little purpose who fails to appreciate it—and he must be dead to the noblest feelings of his kind who would not lend his earnest endeavors to perfect its usefulness.

An education of the right sort unfits for no station in life, and its beneficial effects are written in letters of light everywhere around us. All acknowledge the truth of this; and the State is without a proper system, not because the people are opposed to Free Schools, on the contrary the popular voice is unmistakably for them; but, because the representatives of the people have been unwilling to cast aside individual opinion to meet on common ground, which shall bring order out of the existing chaos.

It is true that some of the Counties have well organized schools; as good, perhaps, as it is possible for them to have, acting separately and independently; but they are not comparable to what they would be under a common system, fostered and controlled by the State: a system which begins with the Primary School and terminates with a well endowed University, capable of furnishing all the requirements of the most perfect and finished education. By the adoption of such a system, thousands of dollars which annually go to build up and enrich Institutions of learning beyond our limits, would be expended among the citizens of our own State, and our youths would grow up Marylanders by education and training as well as by ties of birth and kindred. It would relieve us from the necessity of going abroad to procure teachers, for we should find them at home, thoroughly competent and reliable in every respect.

The means for the institution and organization of such a system are now, it is respectfully suggested, within the control of your Honorable Body, and it can be accomplished without imposing any additional burden upon the people. Should the Direct Tax be reduced in accordance with the recommendation before made, what objection could be offered to giving the benefit of that reduction to promote the cause of Common Schools? The tax is so small that no reasonable being could complain of it, and yet this half mill in the dollar would probably yield an annual School Revenue of $150,000. In a few years more the remaining half mill may be removed and carried over to the School Fund, thus doubling the amount of the annuity from this source. A fixed portion of the amount thus realized might be distributed directly to the Counties, and the surplus permanently invested by the Treasurer in some safe and profitable stock. When the condition of the State shall be such (and we trust the time is not far distant) as to justify her in dispensing with other sources of revenue still further additions may be made to this excellent purpose, and thus an immense fund speedily accumulated which will prove an unfailing spring of blessings for ages to come.

The operations of the Sinking Fund also appear in Statement E.

On the 30th of September, 1858, there remained in the Treasury uninvested surplus cash to the amount of $134,590.-05, and there was received during the fiscal year, 1859, from various sources, principally State Stock held by the Fund, $217,948.75, and of surplus revenue transferred, $140,598.-07, making an aggregate of $493,136.87; all of which was disbursed for the use of the said Fund, and consequently, at the end of the fiscal year there was nothing remaining in the Treasury to its credit.

The character and amount of the stocks held by the Sinking Fund as of the 30th of September, 1859, and also the character and amount purchased for the use of the said Fund will be found in Statement F of the Appendix. The increase during the year amounted to $494,291.50, which was effected by the disbursement of $493,136.87; and the Sinking Fund on the 30th of September last, as appears in said Statement, reached the sum of $4,582,975.22. The purchase of $154,-550 of Baltimore City 6 per cent. Stock was made by the Treasurer, because he found it impossible at that time to obtain State Stock in the market, and he concluded to make the investment sooner than to allow a large amount of money to remain idle in Bank, notwithstanding the Act of 1852 contemplates the purchase of State Stock exclusively. It might be well to amend the law in order to meet emergencies of this character.

Statement I furnishes a condensed account of the State's Capital and Credits as of the 30th of September, 1859, the aggregate of which is $23,317,892.77; of that amount $8,070,-177.46 being rated as productive.

The Funded Debt of the State on the 30th of September, 1859, appears to have been $14,861,472.85, an account of which will be found in Statement J.

REVENUE FROM CLERKS OF COURTS.

Table No. 2, of the Appendix, shows the receipts from these officers during the fiscal year to have been $296,489.07, which is an increase of $17,958.52 compared with the preceding year; of this amount, the sum of $180,660.48 was paid into the Treasury by the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas of Baltimore.

The revenue from the sale of Licenses, (included in the Table referred to) reached the sum of $277,120.50, an increase of $12,385.44 compared with 1858, and of $32,247.19 compared with 1857; and largely exceeding the receipts on this account in any former year.

The tax upon some grades of licenses appears to be heavier than is required, and might be moderately reduced with safety to the State and justice to the mercantile community.

The Clerks have generally settled their accounts with this Department with great punctuality.

REGISTERS OF WILLS.

There was received into the Treasury during the fiscal year from this class of officers $60,868.92, exceeding the receipts from the same source of the year preceding $6,561.96. Of this amount, $35,064.64 was derived from the tax on Executors and Administrators, and $25,804.28 from the tax on collateral inheritances.

The Comptroller has been compelled to institute a suit against the official bond of the late Register of Wills of Baltimore city, for the sum of $12,491.81, the balance due on his final return for the six months which ended the 1st of December, 1857. The requisite report was not submitted by him at the proper time, but a large payment was made into the Treasury; producing the impression that only a small amount remained due, and a promise given that that should be forwarded, accompanied by his account, in the course of a few weeks. It was not done; and after repeated solicitations and demands, he failed to comply. Finally, resort was had to the books and records of the Register's office, and through the favor of the present excellent and courteous officer, an account was made out against him, and sent to the State's Attorney, with instructions to enter suit upon it forthwith. This has been attended to, and the case is now pending in the Superior Court. He has also been indicted in the Criminal Court, under the provisions of the act of 1854. The difficulties experienced in this matter afford a practical illustration of the remarks in the Comptroller's Report for 1858, and the adoption of the suggestion therein made, it is believed, would prove an adequate remedy.

EXCESS OF FEES.

The revenue derived from this source, in the fiscal year, amounted to $11,489.69, which is a considerable increase compared with any former year. In 1857 the receipts on this account were $1,643.33.

Of the receipts in 1859, the clerk of the Circuit Court for Baltimore county (who has manifested promptness and accuracy in his intercourse with this department) paid $236.91, the clerk of the Superior Court of Baltimore city $4,800, the clerk of the Criminal Court of Baltimore city $1,422.22, the Register of Wills of Baltimore city $50, and the State's Attorney of Baltimore city $4,524.66, which last mentioned sum nearly doubles in amount any other payment made by the State's Attorney of the city, on this account, since the adoption of the present Constitution.

The clear, intelligible and perfectly satisfactory form in which the clerk of the Superior Court makes out his reports of excess of fees, deserves much commendation. The payment made by that officer speaks its own praise.

The State cannot receive the full benefit of Art. X, sec. 1 of the Constitution, until a law shall be enacted designating the time and manner of making the returns, requiring a copy of the m to be submitted to the Comptroller for his approval or rejection, and definitely providing for the execution of the penalty. Such a law would relieve the Comptroller of much emb arrassment, and increase the revenue.

AUCTION DUTIES.

The receipts from the Auction Duties for the year, were $14,793.44; they appear in detail in Table No. 4 of the Appendix. The proceeds of these Duties, in accordance with the Act of 1853, chapter 266, have been placed to the credit of the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, and by them applied to the deepening of the channel in the Patapsco river.

NORTHERN CENTRAL RAILWAY COMPANY.

The State has received from this Company, during the fiscal year, $90,000, paid in accordance with the provisions of chapter 260, of the Acts of Assembly of 1854.

BALTIMORE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY.

During the fiscal year this Company paid into the Treasury $119,923.11, on account of one fifth of the receipts from passengers on the Washington Branch Road. These receipts are unusually large, but the amount for one quarter and some arrears on a portion of the road should have been embraced in the returns of the preceding year. The dispute (which was referred to in the Report for 1858) concerning the capitation tax on that portion of the road which lies between Baltimore city and the Relay, was happily settled at the instance of the President of the Company, who prevailed upon the Directors to rescind their former resolution.

The dividends received from the Road in the fiscal year were $70,068.00, an increase of $20,568. These figures prove the flourishing condition of that gr eatPublic Work.

SUSQUEHANNA AND TIDE-WATER CANAL COMPANIES.

These Companies paid on account of interest during the year ending the 30th of September, 1859, $68,000, leaving a balance against them on that year of $3,444.54. This is a decided improvement upon 1858, but there is still due from them arrears amounting in the gross to $95,504.48.

TOBACCO INSPECTIONS.

Table No. 6 of the Appendix exhibits the receipts and disbursements on account of the State Tobacco Inspections in Baltimore for the year 1859. The gross receipts, it will be perceived, were $92,434.25, and the disbursements in the same period were $94,254.51, leaving a deficiency of $1,820.26 to be met by drafts upon the Tobacco Fund.

The Inspectors represent that they cannot "full stay" tobacco for $1, the sum fixed in section 5 of the Act of Assembly of 1858, and that, in fact, it costs about $1,50; consequently it will be necessary to amend the law in this respect.

During the past year an unusually large quantity of Tobacco was received for storage, and a comparatively limited amount shipped; the warehouses being filled, the Inspectors applied to this Department for instructions; although unable to find any legislative provision upon the subject, the Comptroller deemed it his duty to advise them to procure storage room upon the best terms possible, and to defray the expense out of their receipts. The attention of the Legislature is respectfully called to the necessity of providing for future contingencies of this nature.

GRAIN INSPECTIONS.

The Inspectors of Grain in the city of Baltimore returned to this Department, in the fiscal year, $5,283.71, one-half of which amount was disbursed for salaries, and $219.53 for payment of assistants; leaving the nett sum of $2,422.33 in the Treasury to the credit of the Grain Fund.

It appears, by the monthly reports of the Inspector General, that 339,765 bushels of wheat, and 371,202 bushels of corn and other grain were inspected during the year.

In their settlements, the Grain Inspectors have claimed to be entitled to the full amount of the sums prescribed in the Act, as the limit of their salaries, even if it should be necessary to take the entire proceeds of their inspections for this purpose. The law, although somewhat obscure, does not seem to admit of this interpretation, and therefore the claim was not allowed. The provisions of the Act, however, should be made more explicit.

MARYLAND CONSOLIDATED LOTTERIES.

The receipts into the Treasury from this source during the year were $25,500.

The contractor is indebted to the State in the sum of $12,500, the amount of the last quarterly instalment, which should have been paid in the month of April, at which time his contract expired. Being duly notified, he refused to make his final payment, upon the ground, as he alleged, that he had been subjected, as contractor, to certain costs and expenses of suits, from which the State, under the contract, was bound to save him harmless. The Comptroller, upon examination, finding nothing in the terms of the contract to warrant such a construction, directed the State's Attorney of Baltimore city to institute suit, without delay, and to prosecute the same, with diligence and effect, to judgment and execution, or until the demands of the State should be satisfied.

FOREIGN INSURANCE COMPANIES.

The Agents of Foreign Insurance Companies paid into the Treasury, for licenses, during the fiscal year, $14,800, an increase of $6,500 compared with those of 1858. Table No. 10 contains the names of the Agents, and the several sums paid by each on this account. The State, as it was predicted, is now realizing quite a handsome revenue from this source.—The law, however, is doubtless violated to some extent, and might be amended and rendered more effective by authorizing the licenses to be issued by the clerk of the Court of Common Pleas, and the blanks to be prepared by the Comptroller, as is done in the case of other licenses; or a State agent might be appointed to reside in the city, furnished with blanks by, and be required to make his report to, the Comptroller. The first plan could probably be adopted with more advantage to the interests of the State.

The provision of the Act which directs the Comptroller to publish the names of the agents who have been authorized to act, is an excellent one, and an appropriation should be made to pay the expense of the publication.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Weighmaster of Live Stock paid into the Treasury durng the fiscal year $8,537.02, which shows an increase of $1,020.32 when compared with his returns of the preceding year. The receipts are given in Table No. 12 of the Appendix. It is represented by the Weighmaster, that certain repairs and additions should be made to the Scales, the effect of which, in his opinion, would add greatly to the public convenience and increase the revenue. The contemplated improvements are of such an extensive character, that the Comptroller does not feel himself authorized to allow the receipts to be applied in making them. He respectfully suggests the appointment of a committee, by the Legislature, to examine the Scales, and other property of the State, in the city of Baltimore.

Table No. 12 also exhibits the receipts from the Hay Scales, in Baltimore city, during the year. They amounted to $686.60. In the year preceding they were $737.12.

The receipts from the State Wharves in Baltimore, which also appear in Table No. 12, amounted in the year to $4,082.72, exceeding the receipts from the same source in 1858 by the sum of $692.92. A portion of the receipts were expended in necessary repairs.

The appropriation of $50,000, made at the session of 1858, or the building of a Record office and the improvement of the State House, was exhausted before the projected works were completed, but the committee concluded to proceed without funds, rather than to permit the buildings to remain in an unfinished condition, liable to injury, and to cause great inconvenience to the public. The contractors agreed to trust their bills to the Legislature, not doubting a speedy appropriation to meet them.

The prudence and discretion of the committee will be manifest upon an inspection of the vouchers of their expenditures, on file in the Comptroller's office.

It is a source of pleasure to be able to bear testimony to the general promptness and efficiency of the various officers throughout the State, in their connection with the Treasury Department; and special commendation is due to those of Baltimore city, for their zeal and energy in the public service. The receipts into the Treasury from Baltimore city, exclusive of those from Tobacco Warehouses, Live Stock Scales, Hay Scales, Incorporated Institutions, &c., during the fiscal year, were $349,895.09, thus illustrating the remark of Governor Lowe in his message of the year 1852, that "the broad shoulders of that noble city now bear up more than one-third of the whole burden of the State;" while, as he very justly observed, she contributes in a much larger proportion by her indirect revenues.

In conclusion, the Comptroller congratulates the representatives of the people upon the financial condition of the State: prosperous and flourishing far beyond the most sanguine anticipations of ten years ago. The taxes have been reduced from time to time, despite of timid remonstrance, and yet the reveuues have continued to meet every demand; and the Sinking Fund has now reached a sum which will, by augmentation from its interest alone, more than suffice to liquidate the Public Debt at maturity, without the addition of one solitary cent from surplus revenue.

In the further discharge of his duties, the Comptroller holds himself in readiness to obey the behests of your Honorable body.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. HENRY PURNELL,

Comptroller.
